Nature of Dividends: Credit unions are unique financial institutions. You are an owner of this credit union. The money you deposit with us represents an equity interest. Legally, it is more like buying a stock than making a deposit. That's why credit unions call the returns you earn on your accounts dividends instead of interest. For all accounts, the dividend period is monthly. For example, the beginning date of the first dividend period of the calendar year is January 1st and the ending date of such dividend period is January 31st. All other dividend periods follow this same pattern of dates. The dividend declaration date follows the ending date of a dividend period, and for this example is February 1st. The Board of Directors declares dividends based on current income and available earnings of the credit union after providing for the required reserves at the end of the month. The dividend rate and APY shown reflect the earnings the credit union anticipates having available for distribution. If you have a term share account, such as a share certificate, you will receive dividends according to the contract.

Bylaw Requirements: If you fail to complete payment of one share within six months of your admission to membership, or within 6 months from the increase in the par value in shares, or you reduce your share balance below the par value of one share and do not increase the balance to at least the par value of one share within six months of the reduction, you may be terminated from membership at the end of a dividend period. You may transfer shares to another member only by written instrument in such form as we may prescribe. We reserve the right to require you to give us written notice of your intent to make a withdrawal from any account (except a checking account) not less than seven and up to 60 days before the withdrawal. You may not withdraw shareholdings that are pledged as required on security on loans without our written approval, except to the extent that such shares exceed your total primary or contingent liability with us. You may not withdraw any shareholdings below the amount of your primary or contingent liability to us if you are delinquent as a borrower, or if borrowers for whom you are co-maker, endorser, or guarantor are delinquent, without our written approval.

Account Limitation: The following limitations apply to your business accounts:

Withdrawals made from your share or checking account at automatic teller machines have a maximum daily withdrawal amount of $500.00.

Point of sale (POS) transactions made from your share or checking account via debit or ATM card have a maximum daily withdrawal amount of $1,000.00.

Withdrawals made from your money market account have a minimum withdrawal amount of $300.00 per transaction.

For money market accounts, a minimum balance of $2,500 is required to earn a dividend. If your account falls below the required minimum daily balance on any day during the month, you will not earn a dividend for that day. If you close your money market account before dividends are paid, you will not receive the accrued dividends.

For regular share certificate accounts, a minimum balance of $1,000.00 is required to open the account. The minimum balance to open a premium share certificate account is $50,000.00. You must maintain a minimum balance in your share certificate account each day to earn a dividend. A penalty may be imposed for early withdrawals from your share certificate account.

During any calendar month, you may not make more than six withdrawals or transfers to another credit union account of yours or to a third party by means of a preauthorized or automatic transfer or telephonic order or instruction. No more than three of the six transfers may be made by check, draft, debit card, if applicable, or similar order to a third party. If you exceed these transfer limitations in any calendar month, your account will be subject to closure.
