

In this week's recap: Happy New Year! Stocks hit record highs and have varied reactions on stimulus checks and another potential vaccine.

Weekly Economic Update

Presented by RTN Financial & Retirement Group, January 4, 2021

THE WEEK ON WALL STREET

Stocks moved higher during a holiday-shortened week of trading, capping off a turbulent, but otherwise strong year for equity investors.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 1.35%, while the Standard & Poor's 500 increased by 1.43%. The Nasdaq Composite index, which led all year, added 0.65%. The MSCI EAFE index, which tracks developed overseas stock markets, rose 2.02%.^{1,2,3}

STOCKS END 2020 ON A POSITIVE NOTE

Stocks established fresh record highs last week, propelled by the signing of a COVID-19 relief bill, which delivered on a long-awaited, new round of economic stimulus and served to prevent a government shutdown in the near term.⁴

After pulling back on disappointment that the Senate was not able to increase individual stimulus payments to $2,000, stocks reversed direction as the approval of another vaccine by the U.K. lifted investor sentiment.

Ahead of the New Year holiday, stocks surged higher, leaving the Dow Jones Industrials Average and the S&P 500 Index to close 2020 at record highs.

THE UNEXPECTED IPO BOOM

Companies raised over $167 billion in initial public offerings this year, blowing past the record of $107.9 billion set in 1999.⁵

This explosion in capital raising was one of the biggest surprises this year, especially considering the flight to safety in March and April. The introduction of unprecedented monetary easing played a critical role helping this flood of new issuance.

Also playing a role was the popularity of SPACs (Special Purpose Acquisition Corporations). A SPAC is a company that is formed to raise capital through an initial public offering (IPO) for the purpose of acquiring an existing company. SPACs accounted for almost half of the fundraising in the IPO market.⁶

FINAL THOUGHTS

We join all Americans in happily drawing the curtain on 2020. Though it was a challenging and tragic year for so many, there are good reasons to believe that 2021 will be a year of progress in returning to our pre-pandemic normal. We wish you and your family a healthy and happy new year!
